

Updates on the New TungSpot Site

Responsive Design

TungSpot now gives you a better viewing experience on different devices. The content shifts itself within the page to fit the screen in use and help you read the information more easily.

Organized Menu and Navigation

The navigation menu on TungSpot has been reorganized to group the links by the type of information presented on each page. You now have a flat menu bar with one level of navigation.

Personalization

My Favorites:

Quick Links in the old site has been replaced with My Favorites in the new version. This feature allows you to add any module or page on TungSpot to your favorites list, which is accessible from the top of the page.

To change the order of the links on the list or to delete a link from the list, click on the “Edit” button at the bottom of the list. My Settings page appears where you can edit your list from the Favorites section. Be sure to click on “Save Changes” after you update the list.

Social Rating

Each news article and PPR contains a set of stars that allows you to rate the content. This feature helps you share your feedback with the global TungSpot users and also lets you know what information is the most popular among the users. The colored star shows the average score and the number in parenthesis indicates how many users rated the material.

You can only rate the item in the “internal” page, not the “lobby” page, so you need to open the content to rate it. Also, it takes a few minutes for your rating to appear in the “lobby” page.

New and Improved Search Engine

The search results are categorized by the type of information, allowing you to further filter the links. For an example, if you type a name of the product in the search box in the upper right-hand corner of the page, the search result is grouped by the date of publication, Tungaloy Report, News, PPR, etc. You can click on the required category to limit the search results.

New Buttons on the Home Page

New Order: This button leads you to Tungaloy's e-commerce platform, where you can place new orders. No additional log-in is required.

E-Catalog: This button opens Tungaloy's electronic catalog.

TUNGALOY.COM: This button opens Tungaloy's official web site.

Tungaloy Report

You now have access to Tungaloy Report, brochure that introduces a specific product's features and line-up, on TungSpot. Five newest Tungaloy Reports are accessible from the home page. You can click on the gray dots in the upper right-hand corner to switch between the five latest Tungaloy Reports.

All Tungaloy Reports are available from News Hub > Tungaloy Report. This page offers an internal search mechanism that allows you to search for a specific Tungaloy Report within the page. You can also see the files in all available languages and filter the files by year, product line, number, etc.

Improved Display of the Statistical Data

All the statistical pages have been given a “face-lift” to provide you the information in a more simple and clean look.

Purchases Query

A new query is now available for managers to analyze the purchases data from different aspects.

Reports in Word Format

The reports are available in Word format in addition to Excel and PDF that are already part of the option.

Auto-Complete Function on Stock Search and Order Entries

The Stock Search and Order Entries modules are now equipped with auto-complete function that provides you the list of items that contain the partial description that you have entered in the search box. (The update on the Order Entries module may not apply to your system if you are using the e-commerce platform to create new orders.)

Help Button

All the modules are equipped with a “Help” button that provides you a detailed explanation on the page you are currently browsing.

You can access the complete set of user guides from News Hub > User Guides.
